BURBANK-GLENDALE-PASADENA AIRPORT AUTHORITY RESTARTS REPLACEMENT PASSENGER TERMINAL PROGRAM

BURBANK, Calif., August 23, 2021 — The Burbank-Glendale-Pasadena Airport Authority Commission voted today to restart work on a Program Definition Manual and Design Builder procurement documents for the Replacement Passenger Terminal (RPT) Program, which was placed on hold in March of 2020 at the onset of the Covid-19 pandemic.

The RPT Program is a safety enhancement project consisting of four major components:

- 14-Gate, 355,000 sq. ft. replacement terminal
- Airside improvements (terminal apron, taxiway extensions)
- Landside improvements (new access roadway, utilities, support facilities, parking structure)
- Demolition of the existing terminal and short-term parking structure

In 2016, Burbank voters approved Measure B, giving the Airport Authority the right to proceed with the RPT Program.

More information on the RPT Program may be found at www.elevatebur.com.

Hollywood Burbank Airport (BUR) is owned and operated by the Burbank-Glendale-Pasadena Airport Authority, a joint powers agency created in 1977 between the Cities of Burbank, Glendale and Pasadena.
